

MY HEROES are the LEAST of THESE

I think we all find it interesting to observe people. Have you ever noticed that when images of a starving child comes on TV, the channel gets changed quickly to a different show that stimulates the human senses. No one enjoys seeing poverty. We often want to pretend its not there. So many people's Hero's or role models are those who the Media creates. Every day people who appear to be "unsuccessful" according to our culture may not get the same attention or handshake at church that an "upper class" person would get. If you had a poor person and a celebrity in a room, who do you think most people would prefer to talk to? Jesus I'm sure didn't like poverty either but He reached out to people that those with a religious spirit would pass by.

Jesus was not popular. People didn't idolize Him. Jesus wasn't materialistic, nor was He a celebrity. Jesus loved the unlovely. He loved the children when others thought they were a bother. He didn't love people because He thought they had something to offer Him..... He loved people who had "NOTHING" to offer. True Compassion and Love and to be Christlike is when we reach out to people who have "NOTHING" to give back to us. Since working in Haiti for 17 years now, the Hero's in my life are.... as Jesus called them....."the least of these".....Math 25:40

Thank you to all of you who continue to give from your heart to people who will never have anything to give back to you!

One Year Can Bring with it the Miracle We Are Praying For...

Our workers in Haiti have experienced an extremely busy summer. In the heat of the day they have continued to work consistently on the new Nepley Church we are building.

Everything in Haiti is built by hand without the fancy tools and equipment that builders have access to in North America. Our Haitian workers are trained and skilled to work in detail with their hands. Our engineer has had the challenge not only to design the building to handle the high winds and torrential rains that hurricanes bring, but also to have enough strength to endure earthquakes. The new church took a beating by hurricane Isaac but stood strong through the storm. Working through each challenge, the Nepley Church is looking beautiful and will actually have the capacity to seat more people than we originally thought. Being different than us here in North America, Haitian people don't complain if they have to sit close together. With that in mind we should be able to squeeze in up to 2000 people for special services. More good news is that another organization has come alongside us and has offered to provide all the seating when the construction is done and equip us with a new sound system. We are hoping to have the church completed by December 2012. Last August 2011 I wrote a newsletter that said we needed a Financial Miracle to Build a church in Nepley!

This August,
one year later, brought with it the "Miracle" we were praying for!
